

A PLAGUE OF TYPHUS FEVER

FIFTY-SEVEN CASES AMONG EXPORTED RUSSIAN HEBREWS HERE.

Fifty-seven Russian Hebrews, who arrived here on the steamship Massilia, from Odessa, on Jan. 30, are now suffering from typhus fever, and are being treated in the hospital at the East Side.

On Jan. 30, the steamship Massilia, from Odessa, landed at this port 717 immigrants, Italian and Russian Hebrews. The Italian immigrants were taken aboard at Naples. The 207 Russian Hebrews had gathered at Odessa from all parts of southern Russia, and had arrived here after a long voyage of unusual roughness.

These Russian Hebrews were divided immediately among the United Hebrew Lodging House Association. Yesterday the Board of Health found that an epidemic of typhus fever, known under a dozen names as one of the most terrible fevers that can visit the human body and communicating itself by contagion as well as by infection, was raging among them. Fifty-seven of them, already dead, have been taken to the hospital on North Brother Island, and the Board of Health is doing all in its power to stay the further spread of the disease. It is probable that preventive measures are already too late, and that it is now a question how far the infection for it has spread among the Hebrews who have been taken to the crowded tenements of the lower east side.

Dr. Cyrus Edson, Chief Inspector of the Health Department, notified at 10 o'clock yesterday morning by Dr. Dunn that typhus had been found among the Russian Hebrews, and that from that hour until midnight the entire force of the Health Department was engaged in the treatment of the patients from the lodging houses on North Brother Island.

Dr. Edson said that Dr. Dunn had had considerable experience with typhus fever when it broke out in this city in 1880, and they made it a point to have the sick taken to North Brother Island. There was no doubt about its being typhus fever.

Dr. Edson said that the Health Department, all these Russian Hebrews have been since their arrival here the charges of the United Hebrew Lodging House Association, and they have been in the lodging houses on North Brother Island. There were fifty-seven cases of typhus fever at 42 East Twelfth street. Dr. Edson sent out a doctor to the house, and he found that the patients there for a large number of patients, and then with the aid of his staff he inspected the house, and found that the patients were in a very bad state of health.

Dr. Edson said that the patients were in a very bad state of health, and that the patients were in a very bad state of health. The patients were in a very bad state of health, and the patients were in a very bad state of health.

THREATENED TWO CONVENTIONS

CLEVELAND'S FRIENDS SET UP A STATE COMMITTEE.

It is to be remembered that they did not think that Cleveland's friends had been so often elected to the State Convention.

"THE BRIDGE THE BRIDGE"

A German Grocer Thought to Have Jumped from the Big Structure.

An engineer on the Union Elevated road in Brooklyn, on his way with his train to Fulton Ferry at 11:30 last night, saw the body of a man stuck out downward in between the steel on that up-town track.

The police believe that he fell from a train on the road where he was found. He would have been on a train on that road to get home if he had gone to Brooklyn from this city by the ferry.

He is Christian Lankhof, a grocer of 50 Hamburg avenue, Brooklyn. He had $103 and some New York business cards in his pockets. He was sent to the Brooklyn Hospital.

No body could be found who had seen Lankhof on the bridge, nor had any one been seen to jump from it.

HER BIG BLACK BRAIDS CUT OFF. Kate Mayer, a German girl, looking out a window when a man came up and stole her hair.

After many weeks' retirement from business the thief or thieves who kept young girls in Brooklyn and New York in a state of terror by robbing many of them of their long braids of hair began operations in Yorkville yesterday.

Kate Mayer, a German girl, looking out a window when a man came up and stole her hair. She was a dealer in dry goods, lives at 1712 First avenue, Miss Mayer's hair is black, and she wore it in two long braids which reached nearly to her waist.

She was particularly fond of them. She wore them to the store, and she wore them to the store. She wore them to the store, and she wore them to the store.

WAS THE WOMAN MURDERED

MRS. ISABELLE FARQUHAR FOUND DYING IN A CHICAGO STREET.

She had hired a room in which to hide from a man who was pursuing her.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—A young woman who was found in a dimly lighted hallway at 40 Franklin street on Monday evening in a dying condition was identified as Mrs. Isabelle Farquhar, who came to Chicago recently from New York City. Early on Monday afternoon Mrs. Farquhar had been seen sitting on the floor of the room where she was found dying six hours later.

She was then endeavoring to find rooms in which she might conceal herself for a few weeks from a man she claimed as her husband, with whom she had had trouble, and of whom she was in great terror. She succeeded in finding rooms to suit her at 375 Center street, Chicago, and she was found there.

When she said the rent for her room she had a roll of bills. When at the Morgue one of the men found on her person Mrs. Farquhar had been seen sitting on the floor of the room where she was found dying six hours later.

They learned that the woman had been drugged from an alley between Randolph and Adams streets, and that she had been found there. They learned that the woman had been drugged from an alley between Randolph and Adams streets, and that she had been found there.
